One Friday afternoon, after working hard writing books, Mr Robert, a famous writer, decided to go to the countryside. He wanted to relax. Mr Robert was having a walk in a quiet field. The air was fresh and the view was beautiful. When he was walking, a cyclist ran into him. Mr Robert fell to the ground. The cyclist was very sorry. He got off his bike to help Mr Robert get up. Luckily, Mr Robert was not hurt. “I am so sorry!” said the cyclist. “Oh no!” said Mr Robert. “I should say sorry. I am sorry for not giving any luck to you.” Mr Robert looked at the cyclist and added, “If you had killed me, you know, you would be famous soon all over the world.”

M: Don't worry. Let me know your brother's name, age, height and colour of his hair.

W: His name is Tony, five years old. He is a head shorter than me, about one hundred and twenty centimeters tall. And his hair is brown and eyes are black.

M: Um. What clothes is he wearing?

W: He is wearing dark blue trousers and a yellow T-shirt with a Snoopy on the back of it.
